PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Marketing & Business Development Manager Jan 2025 – Jul 2026

NorthSky Supply, U.S. business unit of ZKH Group (NYSE: ZKH) The Woodlands, TX

- Built the marketing, CRM and revenue-operations function for a new U.S. industrial-supply business, turning a bare-bones HubSpot setup into the system the business ran on; the business grew from launch to ~$2.5M in monthly revenue in under 18 months.
- Modeled consumable replenishment cycles with the product team from customer purchase history and built repeat-purchase programs timed to each account's reorder window; those programs converted at 10–12%.
- Ran the online store and the CRM as one system: HubSpot Marketing, Sales and Service Hubs integrated with Shopify, GA4 and paid media, with segmentation, scoring, nurture and lead routing to sales and service reps, and trained every rep to work in it.
- Built the live dashboards across paid, social, web and CRM that marketing, sales, service and executive leadership reviewed weekly; paid-media ROAS rose from under 0.5 at launch to over 5.0.
- Built promotional programs with the product team: bundle pricing, featured-product-of-the-month offers, every promotional discount code and pricing for third-party catalog offerings.
- Named by ZKH's VP of IT and AI to lead a four-person AI team in China; built the HubSpot property mappings that delivered AI-generated product and service content to sales and service reps.

- Took three global product launches from headquarters in China into North America (Pro3 HS Series, RMF500, DF2): positioning, HubSpot launch campaigns, release communications, website copy and trade-show introductions.

- Turned Industrial Info Resources turnaround intelligence and document-engagement signals into prioritized target-account lists and the go-to-market plan sales ran on, opening Chile, Australia and India; also expanded into metals and mining.
